

Biography – Judy Taylour

Judy is a 34-year member of the SCV Computer Club, where she serves as president, editor, and webmaster. In addition, she served as co-facilitator for the Southern California Regional User Group Summit (SCRUGS), a group of technology clubs in Southern California that got together quarterly for over 20 years to share ideas and presenter information, solve problems, etc.

Judy is a proponent of lifelong learning. She taught adult education technology classes for 22 years through her local high school district. She is a member of the Pierce College Computer Applications & Office Technologies Hospitality Management Advisory Committee that meets annually to suggest courses, technology upgrades, etc., for the next school year. For the 2021/2022 school year, some of her input included all students learning about the various online communication programs and upgrades for some of the computers.

As an APCUG Speakers Bureau member, she has given numerous presentations to groups throughout the United States and Canada. She also gave many presentations at APCUG's annual conferences and the Southwest Technology & Computer Conference, where she served as co-chair or chair for 20 years.

Judy has been involved with APCUG since 2003 and holds various positions in the association.
