The Health app is a valuable tool in itself, but when combined with the Apple Watch, or other devices, it's strength really shines, taking health monitoring to a whole new level. It's not just about tracking steps—it's about providing early warnings for health issues and potentially saving lives. Amazing how tech can be such a game-changer.

Join this presentation to learn what this dynamic duo can do for you. You may be very surprised!

This SIG will meet both in-person at NUMC, and remotely using Microsoft Teams.
