Artificial Intelligence (AI) 9:30 - 10:30

Last month, Howard spoke about February 2026 being the month when AI got weird. Well, it's getting more so. Howard plans to speak on topics which include

- Is this evidence that we live in a simulation?
- AI is learning situational awareness.
- The robots are actually coming!

...and, of course, anything that pops up worth noting

This presentation will be online only using Howard’s favorite tool, ZOHO. The online meeting link is <https://meet.zoho.com/wxub-ffv-djv>.

The meeting will go live at about 9:15 to give some time to set up & visit.

SIG Leader: Howard Lee Harkness

Special Presentation 10:30-11:30 am

Privacy Online: A few small things about a big topic, by our very own Tom Sweet

Tom plans to go over online privacy issues of interest to most of us.

Google also has a "Remove my private info from Google Search" tool that he plans to show. <https://support.google.com/websearch/answer/9673730?hl=en>

Lastly, it never hurts to revisit phone carrier and ISP Privacy settings.

This SIG meets this month both in-person at NUMC and remotely. If attending remotely, click <https://bit.ly/3vEoTK5>
